

Josh: No, we wouldn't, 'cause we're all the same. Listen -

~~Steve~~

Adrian No, we're not. Josh. If we're all the same, how do you explain me? Well? Society taught me to be a woman too, didn't it? You were there, Mum and Dad taught me to be a girl, you to be a boy, right? So what went wrong? 'Cause that's not how I turned out. I'm a man. I am a straight man in a woman's body. I'm not saying it's that cut and dry for everyone, it probably isn't. And I'm not saying I wouldn't want to live in a world where we treated everyone the same. This dark cave sounds great. But we don't. We live in this world. We still use the words he and his. And all I'm asking is that while they still exist I want them to be used about me. I want to be asked to give my seat up on a bus. I want to use the gents. When a band asks all the men to sing along, I want to sing along. I don't want to change the world. I just want people to see me the way I want to be seen. The way I am.
